DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the Applicants' amendment file August 5, 2005.

Specification

The objection to the title of the invention has been withdrawn due to the amendment filed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wada (5,859,466).

Wada teaches a semiconductor device comprising:

a substrate 7;

a transistor 1 having a pair of source/drain regions 2 & 3 formed in the substrate 7 and a gate electrode 4 formed via a gate dielectric film 9 on a channel region sandwiched between the pair of source/drain regions 2 & 3;

an interlayer dielectric film 13 formed on the transistor 1;

Art Unit: 2822

source/drain wirings 16 & 17 (portions formed above interlayer dielectric film 13) formed on the interlayer dielectric film 13; and conductors 16 & 17 (portions formed within the openings) formed in the interlayer dielectric film 13 for connecting the source/drain wirings 16 & 17 (portions formed above interlayer dielectric film 13) to the source/drain regions 2 & 3, wherein an opening formed by removing the interlayer dielectric film 13 between the gate electrode 4 and the conductors 16 & 17, and no material does not exist in the opening (Figure 1A, column 4, lines 6-36).

In regard to the opening being formed by selectively removing the interlayer dielectric film, "[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985). See MPEP § 2113.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to for a semiconductor device as taught by Wada to selectively remove the interlayer dielectric layer to provide a more sufficient fabrication process
